

English – Monday

Watch the following video and use these sheets to complete your work then save and turn in your work on google classroom or take a photo and upload it.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iNe7D1p4FRE>

English – Thinking Page Monday

Adverb/ Adverb phrase

Finally, I now
In conclusion, I now
Lastly, I now

Prefix 'dis-'

disgrace

_____regard

_____trust

_____respectful

know

realise

understand

Synonyms -smell

Positive adjectives

pleasant
delicious

Specific adjectives

Yellow

creamy rich scrumptious
pineapple
and coconut
smoothie

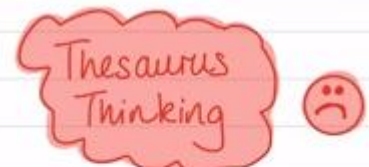

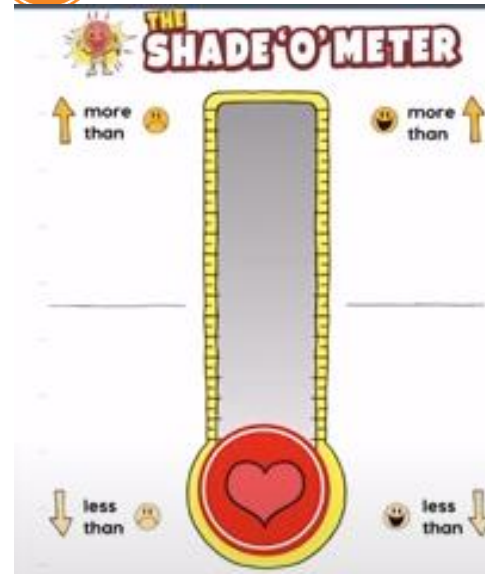

Conjunction

although they smelt delectable
I now realise...

synonyms

inappropriate offensive distressing impolite
thoughtless obnoxious
rude disrespectful
insulting irresponsible

English – Writing Page Monday- Use your word list and finish the sentences below to persuade the scented pens to come back to our classroom.

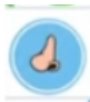

To start your last paragraph, choose a word from the first column and a no word and yes word in the second column to talk to the scented pens about what you now know.

Example – Finally, I now realise the disrespect I have shown to the scented pens.

_____, I now _____ I have shown to the scented pens.

Choose a word to describe the smell from the first column and then finish the sentence by describing two scented pens from the second column.

Example- Their fragrance was delicious. The red pen smelled like fresh juicy strawberries and the brown pen smelled like sticky toffee pudding.

Their _____. The _____ pen smelt like _____ and the _____ pen smelt like _____.

Choose a conjunction word from the first column to start of this sentence and then choose your vocabulary to show you recognise the scented pens do not like us sniffing them by choosing words from the second column.

Example – However, I understand all the sniffing was offensive and must stop.

_____, _____ all the sniffing was _____ and must stop.